

La Bayadère

Summer Intensive

The classical ballet La Bayadère (The Temple Dancer) will set the stage for the Southern California Dance Academy's three week summer workshop for intermediate to advanced dance students. The workshop serves those serious dance students who wish to participate in a summer workshop, but are not yet ready to leave home to participate in a summer intensive. La Bayadère is a famous ballet choreographed by Marius Petipa on music by Ludwig Minkus. As with most great classical ballets, ' La Bayadère contains many solo variations and groups dances that are showcased in summer intensives and competitions. This summer workshop will hold an opportunity for dedicated dance students to learn several of these variations by familiarizing themselves with one of ballet's great classics. The workshop culminates in a final performance that will demonstrate the students' technical progress and artistic advancement.

Additional Dance Camp info: Students bring their own snack and lunch. A refrigerator and microwave are available for student use.
